

Press Release

4 December 2009

Nobelprize.org provides live HD quality webcasts of 2009 Nobel Prize Award Ceremonies and Nobel Lectures

Nobelprize.org, the official web site of the Nobel Foundation, will provide live webcasts in HD quality of the 2009 Nobel Peace Prize Award Ceremony from Oslo, Norway, and the Nobel Prize Award Ceremony from Stockholm, Sweden, on 10 December 2009. Nobel Lectures on 7, 8 and 10 December will also be webcast live.

Nobelprize.org brings you closer to the 2009 Nobel Laureates as they receive their Nobel Prizes, by providing live webcasts of the 2009 Nobel Prize Award Ceremonies and Nobel Lectures as they happen. The schedules and links for the live webcasts are as follows:

Nobel Prize Award Ceremonies

10 December, 1:00 p.m. – 2:30 p.m. (CET): Nobel Peace Prize Award Ceremony including the Nobel Lecture from Barack Obama at the Oslo City Hall, Norway.

http://nobelprize.org/award_ceremonies/ceremony_oslo/video/2009/index.html

10 December, 4:30 pm – 6:00 pm (CET): Nobel Prize Award Ceremony at the Stockholm Concert Hall, Sweden, for the 2009 Nobel Laureates in Physics, Chemistry, Physiology or Medicine, Literature and the Laureates in Economic Sciences.

http://nobelprize.org/award_ceremonies/ceremony_sthlm/video/2009/index.html

Nobel Lectures

Monday, 7 December at 1:00 p.m.–3.30 p.m. (CET): Nobel Lectures in Physiology or Medicine

Monday, 7 December 5:30 p.m. (CET): Nobel Lecture in Literature

Tuesday, 8 December 9:00 a.m.–11:05 a.m. (CET): Nobel Lectures in Physics

Tuesday, 8 December 12:30 p.m.–2:30 p.m. (CET): Nobel Lectures in Chemistry

Tuesday, 8 December 3:00 p.m.–4:20 p.m. (CET): Prize Lectures in Economic Sciences

Thursday, December 10, 1:00 p.m. (CET): Nobel Peace Prize Lecture

For the full schedule and titles of the lectures, please visit:

http://nobelprize.org/award_ceremonies/lectures_2009.html

The live video is streamed using Adobe Flash platform and the Content Delivery Network is provided by Akamai. Kulabyte and Protel have provided the live streaming encoding for HD quality.

If you would like to embed the Nobelprize.org live video widget within your web site or blog in order to view the Nobel Lectures, please visit:

<http://nobelprize.org/nobelweb/pressroom/widget/index.html>

If YouTube is your preferred channel, visit the NobelPrize YouTube channel for the live streaming of Nobel Lectures.

<http://www.youtube.com/thenobelprize>

If you cannot follow the live webcasts, all ceremonies and Nobel Lectures will be available as video on-demand 24 hours after the events.

On Nobelprize.org, you can find the background information on all the 2009 Nobel Laureates and their work, including the official documentation from the Nobel Prize awarding institutions. For further information on these live webcast services, and for background information on the Nobel Prizes, visit <http://nobelprize.org>.

Media Contact

Nobel Web AB

Merci Olsson

Marketing and Communications Manager

Tel: +(46) 738 52 35 95

E-mail: merci.olsson@nobel.se

About Nobel Web AB

Nobel Web AB is responsible for Nobelprize.org, the official website of the Nobel Foundation. Nobelprize.org acts as the online gateway to the Nobel Prize and hosts a unique collection of archival material on all Nobel Prizes from their inception in 1901 to the present day. Currently receiving well over 38 million visitors a year, Nobelprize.org aims to be the best source of information and educational materials related to the Nobel Prizes, and the site offers audio and video interviews, articles and interactive games alongside coverage of Nobel Prize announcements and the award ceremonies. Building on this deep base of resources focused around every individual Nobel Prize, Nobelprize.org aims to offer extra levels of understanding, affording visitors a larger view of the history of science and exhibiting each prize within its broader context.

Copyright © Nobel Web AB 2009

Nobelprize.org® and Nobel Prize® are registered trademarks of the Nobel Foundation.